

Southern Bride[®]

MidSouth

Fashion Finds

Seaside with Love

Romantic Destinations
TRAVEL "Hot Spots"

"I Do!"
Destinations
of the South

summer/fall 2011
southernbride.com

Enter to Win!
A Two-Page
Wedding Announcement

A short drive from Cancun lays the picturesque village of Playa del Carmen.

Once home to local fishermen, this waterfront community has become a sanctuary for the rich and famous. Dance clubs and restaurants from elegant to eclectic are a short walk from the beach. Awaiting your discovery are The Condo Hotels (condohotelsplaydelcarmen.com) created by noted New York developer, Jack Pearlman. These properties located in the heart of Playa del Carmen feature creative architectural elements and dramatic landscaping.

The El Taj displaying a Bali and Tahitian theme provides an exotic backdrop for your wedding or honeymoon. Thatched roof top balconies overlook the turquoise Caribbean Sea. Luxuriously landscaped and appointed with stylish, contemporary furnishings, this hotel is frequently reserved for intimate ceremonies and parties. The view from El Taj will awe your guests and consummate your marriage in a spiritual way. For beach weddings, groups to 300 guests may be accommodated. Matching the bride with a local planner is recommended as the wedding professionals can create a private or elaborate event to occur on any day of the week.

The El Taj Beachside or the Port Playa will be a terrific choice for a tropical garden wedding.

El Taj

Beach Club

Jacuzzi

Waterfalls and lush tropical flowers and foliage can backdrop your festivities. Concierges available daily at all of Condo Hotels will book excursions for the bride and groom or the entire wedding ensemble.

Request a day trip to Xel-Ha (xelha.com) or Punta Venado. Xel-Ha, all inclusive natural aquarium exhibits acres of entertainment. Tube or snorkel the waterways passing through natural mangrove tunnels. Punta Venada is a bit more private for similar experiences with the inclusion of horseback riding and ATV trips through their rugged jungle trails. A trip to Rio Secreto to hike and swim an underground river flowing through an extensive network of caves is an exceptional tour that can be both calming and exhilarating.

One of the essential day trips to consider is touring Tulum. Absorbing the sophisticated Mayan culture should not be missed by any visitor to the Riviera Maya. Guided tours enlighten visitors about these talented ancients whose temples and dwellings are still standing and overlooking one of the area's most magnificent beaches. The study of the Mayan's advancements in science, writing, and engineering impresses visitors from around the world.

First-rate restaurants, coffee shops and dessert cafes complement a Playa del Carmen shopping experience. Mosquito Blue offers sidewalk seating where diners can be pampered with delectable food while street musicians entertain them. Try Yaxche for traditional Mayan cuisine. Dine at La Cueva del Chango for a superior fresh breakfast or natural Mexican lunch or dinner. A babbling brook and a turtle pond found under the trees set the stage for the cozy outdoor seating.

Playa del Carmen attracts the young at heart. Couples seeking romance, adventure and relaxation are accommodated, pampered, and respected by the seasoned professionals in this Mexican village. Accessibility and affordability are other key elements to consider when choosing Playa del Carmen for a wedding or honeymoon. Jack Pearlman's Condo Hotels provide a unique alternative from the grandiose all inclusive properties. Consider their proposal when planning a seaside destination wedding.

riveramaya.com